A. How the 4-D Barrels point system works;

1. The point season will run from March 1st to midnight September 30th of the current year.

2. Points are based on the rider. If you ride multiple horses in one class, you will receive your points for the highest placing in any one division, if you are tied for a placing on 2 horses in different divisions you would take the points in the highest division you place in. (You would get one set of points per class no matter how many horses you run in that one class.)

Example 1: You place 3rd in the 1D on horse # 1 and you place 5th in the 2D on horse # 2, you would receive your points in the 1D;

Example 2: You place 4th in 2D on horse # 1 and you place 4th in 3D on horse # 2, you would receive your points in the 2D. Example #

3: You place 1st in 3D on horse # 1, and you place 15th in 2D on horse # 2, you would receive your points in the 3D.

3. You are required to have a paid entry and receive a time for each class to receive points. All multiple day events must be taken on the day you made the run. Any exhibition, practice, warm up, etc are not to be considered competition runs and are not to be counted for points.

5. Points can be accumulated from any show or event published 2 weeks in advance. No points can be taken from any "LAST MINUTE" races or on the spot races.

Example of how to take points:

2nd place 4-D=99 points

3rd place 4-D=98 points

Classes with entries 301-400-points will be taken to 30th place

Classes with entries 401-over-points will be taken to 35th place

6. All points accumulated will stay in the division they are won in. Example: A rider may accumulate points in all 4 divisions throughout the point season.
7. Age division classes, rodeos, jackpots, novice horse, novice rider, and any other class that is not placed as a 4-D will be considered 1-D points.
8. Youth points may be accumulated in Youth 4-D, Open 4-D or any available classes they are eligible to run at the show.
9. Any class with divisions greater than 4, will be placed out to the 4-D only.
10. Points are taken as awarded, example; some shows may have one 4-D class placing ½ second splits, and one 4-D class placing full second splits. Points are awarded as placed at show.

C. Determining Eligible Points

1. When the W.G.B.R.A. sponsors any barrel race that will be the only place a member can take points from on that day.
2. The only time a horse may have 2 or more riders is at a show or rodeo that permits it.
3. Each member is responsible for making sure their points are turned in or show results/printouts will be accepted. You will need to count the # of entries and give the point secretary your own placing if turning in just the results/printouts without a point form. Points must be sent to the point secretary and postmarked within 2 weeks of the show.
4. Points will be taken by the go-round. No average points count.
5. You are allowed to take points from a carryover/sidepot.

D. 4-D Barrels award guidelines

1. Women's, Men's and Youth 4-D Barrels will place the top 5 in each division. Monetary amounts will be equal in each division, but $dollar amount may vary in each group depending on number of member's in each group.
2. Each rider that is nominated is eligible for one award.
3. Any rider that is nominated and places in multiple divisions will automatically receive the award in the division, the member has received the highest placing in. If a member would have the same placing in more than one division, at the end of the point season, at that time they would take the award in the highest division.
4. A sportsmanship and hard luck award will be given out at the annual awards banquet each year. This will be voted on by current members.
